City Democratic Committee Completes Arrangements for the Primary.

Politing Places-Effort to

Delegates to the State Convention Chosen at This Election Pails.

An interesting session of the City Democratic Committee was held in the asnbly hall of Powhatan Club last night. President Marion L. Dawson filled the chair, and the other members present were Meeurs, Bowery, Hellstern, Hall, Mc-Kenny, Tyler, Doherty, Fagan, Jarvis, Weisiger, Heake, Winston, Hagan, Morris, Allen, Murray, and Wallace,

The first matter of business gone into was the further consideration of the plan for the primary election to be held April 20th. Sections 1, 2, and 3 had already been shopted, so the committee began work upon No. 4. which stipulated that there should be at this primary election candidates naminated for the following offices: Mayor, Commonwealth's Attorney, Auditor, City Col-lector, High Constable, City Sergeant, five councilmen from each ward, member of the Board of Aldermen from member of the Board of Aldermen from Clay, two from Monroe, two from Madi-son, two from Jackson, one from Jeffer-son, and one from Marshall wards; three justices of the peace from each ward; five members of the City Democratic Com-mittee from each ward, and delegates from each precinct to the State Demo-ratic Convention—these delegates to be selected upon the basis of one for every 60 registered voters, or 101 delegates from the entire city.

DPPOSED ELECTION OF DELEGATES. Mr. Hellstern opposed the last clause of section 4. which provided for the election of these delegates, and he moved to strike out that part of the section, on the ground that the two primaries on the ground that the two primaries should not be united.

Mr. Bowery said he was of the opinion that the delegates could be elected at this time without any disorder whatever, and would save much trouble, turmoff, and expense.

Mr. Cunningham Hall agreed with Mr. Helistern, and stated that the delegates to the convention should, in his opinion, be chosen in a primary election, to be held about ten days before the

to be held about ten days before the time for the convention.

A strong speech in favor of uniting the elections was made by Mr. Morris. the elections was made by Mr. Morris. This gentleman said that no possible good could be accomplished by holding a second primary, when all the work could easily be done in one. He spoke of the corruption in city politics here, saying that a great many men bought their way into office. He stated that he had been in the precinct meetings (a place previously suggested as a means for electing these celegates), and knew what frauls and deceits were practiced in them.

Mr. Hagan wanted to know of Mr. Morris what officers had bought their way into office, but the latter did not feel that he was responsible to Mr. Hagan for the statement, and declined to answer his question.

VOTERS NOT STUPID.

Chairman Dawson spoke earnestly in favor of separating the elections, and the opposite view was held by Mr. Winston, who said the voters were not stupid, and did not want a good long time to think over the candidates for places in the convention.

Mr. Bowery thought three elections in twenty-eight days were entirely too many for the nerves and time of the people of this city, especially the workingmen. The motion of Mr. Hellstern was adopted by the following recorded vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Hall, Hellstern, Hoake, Hagan, Murray, Tyler, Dawson, and Wollage.

Noes-Messra, Allen, Bowery, McKenny, Morris, Weisiger, Winston, and Jarvis-7.

APRIL 20TH THE LAST DAY. The section was then adopted as amended, and No. 5, which bore upon the clause about the election of delegates to the State convention, was stricken out. The next two sections, regarding who shall be declared nominees and as to the manner in which a voter shall cast his nner in which a voter shall cast his lot, were slightly amended, and adoptmanner in which a voter shall cast his ballot, were slightly amended, and adopted. No. 7, ordering the printing of 55,600 tickets, and providing that all candidates desiring their names placed on the ballots should notify the chairman of the City Democratic Committee before 12 o'clock, April 27th, was so amended as to make this date April 20th, in order to allow plenty of time for everybody to know who the candidates are. Section 8, as to how ballots shall be received, and 9, regarding the count, were agreed upon, without change. The sections regarding police arrangements, the return of the ballots, canvass of the returns, and contests, were also promptly agreed upon, each member of the committee being vested with the power to go within the polining places in his respective ward.

Mr. Hall offered an entirely new section, as follows: "No judge or clerk of election shall, on the day of election, influence or attempt to influence, or solicit for any candidate or candidates, the vote of any voter or voters." This was unantmously adopted.

of the returns or the original count may file a written demand for a recanvass of the returns or a recount of the ballots, or both, with the chairman of the committee before noon, May 5th.

The chairman requested the ward superintendents to try to prepare their lists of polling-places and present the same at the next regular meeting of the committee. He arged them to endeavor, as far as practicable, to secure places which could be used in the general election.

On motion of Mr. McKenney the plan was adopted as a whole.

Under the head of new business the plan was referred to the Committee on Printing, with orders to have 309 copies of the plan and the 50,000 tickets called for in section 7. Chairman Dawson ap-plonted Messrs Allen, Murray, and Harda-way as members of the Auditing Com-tice.

There was some discussion upon the oposition of Mr. Bowery to increase e compensation of the judges and clerks, lich finally fell through, and the committee adjourned.

FROM QUARANTINE DISTRICTS.

Cattle Have Begun to Arrive in Richmond-Pens Not Ready.

Cattle have begun to arrive in Richmond. from the infected and quarantined areas of Virginia and North Carolina, and the work of Inspector Curtice and his two

There is some little trouble encountered by the inspectors in disposing of the cattle, which are coming in principally over the Southern railway. It was hoped that the pens to be provided by the Southern for quarantined cattle would be ready for their reception yesterday, but they could not be finished, and will not be for some days yet. On Thursday the dealers learned that the rain had provented the completion of the pens. Something had to be done immediately, and the dealers held a meeting in the afternoon, and made arrangements to secure pens for the quarantining of cattle until the Southern's pens are ready. Pens ou the Chesapeake and Chie railway, about a mile from the Locomotive-Works, were secured. The cattle brought in will be taken by rail to these pens. This will cause some slight inconvenience to the Southern and Richmond and Petersburg and Norfolk and Western roads.

All the cattle coming in over the railroads are not required to be inspected, but only those which came from quarantined districts, and the railroad companies way-bills are required by law to show which shipments emanate from infected districts. The whole of the State of North Carolina is now quarantined, but it is well known that only a portion of the State is infected; therefore, there is every probability that the disaffected portion will be released from quarantine. Inspector Curtice received a telegram yesterday advising him that a line would be drawn in North Carolina as in Virginia as soon as the Governor of that State took the action which has been suggested to him.

It is said that the quarantine order will greatly inconvenience the cattle-men. They have heretofore held sales on Mondays from 7 to 12 o'clock at the pens on Brook avenue. Now they will be compelled to have special sales on Saturdays and Mondays. The cattle from non-infected districts will be sold from their own pens. Then the dealers will have to transfer their scene of operations to the quarantine pens.

The quarantine will not affect the local-cattle business in the infected districts near so seriously as many people suppose. The cattle are taken to the pens, as are those brought in car-load iots, but they are inspected at once, and if found to be sound and healthy, as is nearly always the case, they are released for immediate slaughter. One Carystreet firm received severel head both Thursday and yesterday, and all passed the Inspection, as did a large lot of calves.

Workmen are busily engaged laying out the grounds of the Confederate Museum. The old west wall along Twelfth street has been torn down and drives and waikways are being made.

Rev. Henry Alexander White, D. D., of Lexington, Vai., will preach at the Church of the Covenant to-morrow morning and night. He is the guest of Judge Weilford, his father-in-law. Mr. J. W. Booker, the accomplished Wirector, announced as next on the programme a plano solo by Miss Virginia Neems, a member of the Boston Seminary. Her remittion was exquisite. Then came a sweet song, with guitar accompaniment, by Miss Clara Tompkins. Little Miss Bickers brought down the house with a wee-bit recitation entitled "Dolly's Letter."

The audience was treated to some excellent character sketches, Messrs, Harry Kemp and Lomie Wilson, in their infinitable Irish and negro delineations, kept. all present convulsed with laughter from start to linish. In response to an encore Mr. Kemp portrayed the character of Dr. Quack in a humorous manner, producing much laughter. During the songs rendered by these gentlemen they were accompanied on the pisno by Miss Maud Kemp. Miss Eva Walsh recited in a charming manner the selection entitled "St. Peter, the Great," after which the Manhattan Beach March was played by Misses Bessie Atkins, Bettle Robertson, and Chara Tompkins, on the guitar, and Mr. J. A Page on the violin. Then followed Mr. J., Page in his humorous songs, with banjo accompaniments. After this came Messrs, Wilson and Toler in their negro delineation, which proved to be one of the hits of the evening.

Mr. Sol, Bloomberg rounded off the pleasant entertainment with a happy little speech in praise of the order, after which hall, where they partock of cream and cake and other delicacies.

LEE CAMP'S WEEKLY MEETING.

An Interesting Session Last Night-

Good Speeches Made.

The meeting of Lee Camp last night was well attended. An invitation was received from Josenh E. Johnston Camp, No. 2. of Manchester, inviting Lee Camp to attend their entertainment next Monday night. Many of the camp will do what they can to assist their comrades across the river.

A letter received from Miss Rebecca Cammeron, of Hilisboro', N. C., asking the camp to procure for General Raisign E. Colston a volunteer amanuenses, was referred to the Soldiers' Home Board. General R. W. Johnston, of St. Paul, Mun., returned to the camp his thanks for the pictures of General R. E. Lee and General Albert Sidney Johnston, which the camp recently sent him.

The camp accepted the invitation of the Oakwood Memorial Association to attend their services on the 9th of May, and will, as has been their custom, parade with full ranks.

General Bradley T. Johnson made a very interesting speech, giving a history of the operations of the Maryland Camp of Confederates. Rev. Dr. James Smith made a very happy talk on his experience while in Richmond during a cavary raid, and of a scouting expedition which he made under the direction of General Ewell.

The following committee was appointed to arrange for the proper cele-

The following committee was appointed to arrange for the proper celebration of the thirteenth anniversary of Lee Camp: Comrades D. Smith Redford, Miles T. Phillips, J. S. Van Horn, David A. Brown, Jr., and Arthur G. Evans, in the camp hall, on Monday night, the 20th of April.
The camp decided to elect delegates to the United Confederate Veterans' Convention next Friday night.

COMPLIMENT PREST WILLIAMS.

Appropriate Resolutions Adopted by Officials of Georgia and Alabama. On the occasion of a splendid banquet given by the management of the Georgia and Alabama Railway Company to the heads and assistant heads of departments and Alabama Railway Company to the heads and assistant heads of departments of the road, which affair took place at the De Soto Hotel, Savannah, a few nights ago, a set of resolutions speaking in most complimentary terms of President John Skeiton Williams was adopted. The supper was tendered in nonor of the opening of the company's line from Montgomery to Savannah, and the resolutions unanimously passed congratulated the president and directors of the company ypon the opening of this new road, thus establishing a new and independent thoroughfare between deep water and the West, and say in this coanection: "We recognize that this happy consummation is largely the result of the unitring efforts of President John Skelton Williams, who, with his able associates (of whom, without disparagement to others, Director John W. Middendorf may be accorded the first place), in the face of overwelming odds, succeeded in bringing out of chaos the old Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railway, and of reorganizing and constructing upon its ruins the fair and promising property now known as the Georgia and Alabama railway."

There are probably between three and four million dollars, face value, of the securities of the Georgia and Alabama railway owned in Richmond.

Sailors Make Complaint.

Sailors Make Complaint.

Two colored sailors—Tom Webster and Lawrence Duncan—who shipped aboard the three-masted schooner Henry C. Shepherd, in New York, for the round trip to Richmond, were in Commissioner Henry Flegenheimer's office yesterday complaining of the food they received aboard the ship. The Commissioner assured the men that he would look into the matter and see what could be done for them.

To-day at the noon service in St. Paul's church the mosale memorial erected by Mrs. General Anderson, in loving memory of her husband, General Joseph R. Anderson, will be unveiled. The figure is the last supper, and is a work of art by Tiffany & Co., of New York, and has been placed in the wall in the rear of the communion-table.

Mr. Barbour's Funeral Yesterday. The funeral of Mr. T. O. Barbour, late treasurer of the Chesapeake and Ohio Hailway Company, took place in Indianapolis, Ind., yeaterday afternoon, and, out of respect to his memory, the general offices of the road in this city, were closed after 1 o'clock.

The Executive Committee of the Baptist City Missionary Society held its monthly, meeting last night in the office of President Josiah Ryland. Rev. W. S. Leake, the efficient city missionary, was detained at home by indisposition. The attention of the committee being draws to the fact that interest has been manifested in services held near Chimborase Park, a subcommittee was appelnted to consider the application for assistance in carrying on the work. The Executive Committee, together with the other members of the society from the various Baptist churches in Richmond and Manchester, will hold an important meeting at the Second church next Fridsy night at 8 o'clock. Each church has three representatives, and it is hoped all will be present.
